Maxillary Skeletal Expander:

Developed by Dr. Won Moon, is bi-cortically anchored to the palate with four TADs. Capable of dramatic skeletal expansion and nasal airway increase.

Standard MSE Features:

- Lab will determine the optimal MSE size
- Anterior TADs in line with mesial aspects of first molars
- Bands on first molars
- Screw arms anchored to first molar bands only
- Gap between screw and palate is <2mm
- 11mm TADs

Important:

- Doctor prefers an alternative A-P position of the MSE screw. Draw the line on model for the anterior TADs or use the line through mesial aspects of first molars for measurement reference.
- Please have a technical advisor contact me.
